

Instructions | “Am I Rural?” Tool Instructions

The “Am I Rural” Look Up tool is located at: <https://www.ruralhealthinfo.org/am-i-rural>

The website includes a video that provides instruction on how to use the tool (“Using RHIhub’s Am I Rural? Tool”). Follow the instructions to obtain the “Am I Rural? – Report” required to determine whether the address is considered rural.

Projects Approved in 2013:

- 1) In the report, locate “Common Rural Definitions.”
- 2) Locate “Urbanized Areas / Urban Clusters.” Addresses identified as “Not located in an Urbanized Area area or Urban Cluster” or “Urban Cluster” are considered Rural. Only addresses identified as “Urbanized Areas” are considered Urban.

Projects Approved in 2014, 2015, and 2016:

- 1) In the report, locate “Common Rural Definitions.”
- 2) Locate “RUCA (Rural Urban Commuting Areas) – Census Tracts.” Addresses located in a Census tract (or ZIP code only if Census tract is unavailable) with a Rural Urban Commuting Area (RUCA) code of “micropolitan, small town, or rural” (RUCA primary codes 4-10) are considered rural.
